There are better prospects for Kihei, whose crop for 1906 is estimated at 5000 tons against 4400 for 1905. Recent visitors to the plantation are well satseled with the conditions. With the new supply of ditch water the outlook for Killet is very good. It was handicapped the past year by very heavy pumping.

At a cost of but $25,000 Manager McLane is building a reservoir on Koloa fantation, Kausi, which will have a capacity of 1,473,000,000 gallons, or sufficient to irrigate 1000 acres for seven months. It takes up 370 acres of what has not proved good came land on account of dampness, while it will enable the plantation to add twelve hundred acres of virgin soil to its cultivable area.

The weekly crop bulletin of the U. S. Weather Bureau for the week ending ember 23 says the weather was partly cloudy and rathr cool, although temperatures in most sections were appreciably higher than during the preceding week. Young cane was generally reported as in good condition, though making slow growth on account of cool weather. Winter pineapples were ripening slowly, but the young fruit was in good condition. Sisal was doing well.

The tax assessors are taking special pains to acquaint taxpayers with the changes in the law, whereby taxes are payable in May and November instead of mee a year as previously. Property and income tax returns must be filed during the first two weeks in January.
